

Aligning Health and Reading with a HEAP of Books

Oct. 25-26, 2007 Mitchell, SD

The Aligning Health and Reading with a HEAP of Books training is designed to help teachers make connections between the health knowledge and skills their students should achieve in order to become health literate and the books they integrate into their daily lessons on reading and writing. Participants will receive a copy of the Aligning Health and Reading with a HEAP of Books resource.

Schedule: The Aligning Health and Reading with a HEAP of Books training will be held Oct. 25-26, 2007 from 8:30-4:00 p.m. at the Comfort Inn, 2020 Highland Way, Mitchell, SD. Exit I 90 to Highway 37 on the 332 Exit and go south to 2020 Highland Way.

Target Audience: You know how important health education is for your students. But it is no secret that there just isn't enough time for it. The Aligning Health and Reading with a HEAP of Books training is the practical solution for elementary and secondary teachers, school counselors, nurses and many others for getting it all done in the little time you have.

Course Objectives: Participants will be able to:

- Explain the health education standards and supporting teaching materials.
- Discuss the connection between health and reading in developing health literacy.
- Gain a plethora of resources to use in the classroom to implement health and reading.
- Share and interact with other participants to expand the resources to be used.
- Determine the relevance of health literacy to learning in the 21st century.

Credit Information: The Aligning Health and Reading with a HEAP of Books training will be offered for one graduate credit through Black Hills State University for $40.00, and for one Teacher Renewal Credit through the Department of Education at no charge. Participants may also take the course for no credit.

Meals and Accommodations: A block of rooms has been reserved at the Americinn Hotel, 1421 S. Burr, Mitchell, SD (605 996 9700) at the state rate of $45.00. Ask for the block of rooms reserved for the HEAP Training with the DOE. Participants are responsible for making their own reservations and for the room charges. Sleeping rooms are also available at the Comfort Inn and Suites for $99. Call (605) 990 2408. A noon lunch will be provided for the participants of the training.
